

Building and Construction Pathways and Programs

School	Pathway/Program	Description
DeWolf High School	Construction Technology	A program for students to discover and develop their skills in the craft and trade of Carpentry.
Duncan Polytechnical High School	Innovative Design and Applied Technology Academy - Construction	A Linked Learning program focusing on construction, design process, and progressive skill development. Students are eligible to receive industry certifications including OSHA 10, NCCER, and S/P2, and can earn college credit.
Fresno High School	Construction Design and Technology	An IB Career-related Program where students develop skills in construction design (Computer-aided Design & Drafting), blue print creation and reading, residential and commercial carpentry, HVAC, electrical, and plumbing. Students who complete the program will have the opportunity to earn industry certifications, i.e. NCCER, college credit, and an International Baccalaureate Career-related Programme Diploma.
Hoover High School	Construction Technology	This program provides individualized instruction for developing the competency skills and knowledge necessary to enter the field of residential and light commercial construction. Students will also be eligible to receive college credit through Dual Enrollment.
Sunnyside High School	Agriscience and Technology	A Linked Learning pathway developing essential career preparation skills through science and engineering, as well as personal leadership opportunities within the exciting industry of Agriculture and Technology.